INTRODUCING VALHALLA

Valhalla is a pure aniline leather that embodies subtle luxury at its best. Crafted from the finest selection of German hides, it is tanned with saturated, aniline dyes to showcase each hide's natural characteristics and highlight their premium quality. After being meticulously milled overnight, hides are then individually polished to create a hand that is exceptionally soft and translucent. A rich and elegant color palette inspired by elements found in nature further enhances this leather's visual appeal, making it one of the season's most striking standouts.
